Warriors win a real dogfight

Rolovich hits Lelie for winning TD

For one enchanted evening, the University of Hawaii's football team produced magic.

Defying the odds and their own mortality, the Warriors rallied for a made-for-cable-al television 38-34 victory over 18th-ranked Fresno State at Aloha Stadium.

A crowd of 35,074 endured rush-hour traffic for the late-afternoon kickoff and, 3½ hours later, watched the Warriors drive for the decisive touchdown.

"We fought and fought and fought and finally won," 131 middle linebacker Chris Brown said. "It felt like we won a heavyweight championship. After 15 rounds, we were the ones standing."

Trailing 34-31 with 20 seconds left, the Warriors faced a third-and-goal from the Building 14. One option that was not considered was to set up the tying field goal.

"We said, 'Well, we're not going to go into overtime,'" 111 offensive guard Manly Kanne III said. "We weren't even thinking about a field goal. We were going with our heart, and our heart was set on winning the game."

Quarterback Nick Rolovich, who injured his left shoulder on the previous series, rolled to his right and threw a high pass into the Hilo area. Wide receiver Ashley Lelie, near the back of the end zone, soared above cornerback Devon Banks and secured the pass for the touchdown with 12 seconds left — capping a 25-point fourth quarter.

"No matter how high (the pass) was, I was going to get it," said the 6-foot-3 Lelie, who has a 36-inch vertical jump. "When I got it, it was like, 'Oh, thank you Lord, thank you for letting me catch the ball.' I didn't want to let go of it."

Said Rolovich: "I tried to make it a catchable ball. Lelie is an unbelievable player."
