San Jose Loses 13-12 At Stadium

Kahukui Runs 90 Yards To Touchdown; Central One Of Most Thrilling Staged Here

By RED McQUEEN
San Jose, The Advertiser, has to concede defeat in a game which was a real battle of attrition. The team from the University of Hawaii, which had the best record of the season, was defeated by the San Jose State team, which was the only team to win a game in the state. The game was played at the University of Hawaii Stadium, and was one of the most thrilling games ever staged here. The San Jose team, which was coached by Coach J. H. Smith, was led by quarterback Red McQueen, who ran for 90 yards and scored a touchdown. The game was a close one, with the San Jose team leading 13-12 at the end of the game. The game was played on a rainy day, and the weather was a factor in the outcome. The San Jose team was inspired by the rain, and they were able to pin the defeat on their unbeaten foe.
